

Alaris Developer Program

Real Power to Expand, Connect, and Grow Your Business

The Alaris Developer Program is as unique, flexible, and solution-focused as you are

As a software solution provider (ISV) or system integrator (SI), you create customized solutions for customer challenges. You select the best, most appropriate technologies and combine them into ideal systems. When you team with Alaris, you gain powerful tools to help you solve common and uncommon information management challenges. We help you expand, connect, and grow in meaningful ways.

Why the Alaris Developer Program is different and better

Alaris is much more than a technology company offering hardware, software, and services. We developed the Alaris IN2 Ecosystem as an integrated approach to better information capture and management. And we continue to develop the products, tools, and targeted developer programs that address your unique needs and those of your customers.

We give you flexible options for -

- Connecting scanning directly to cloud applications like SharePoint, Box and Google Drive
- Providing kiosk-like scanning solutions that enable seamless integration into software applications
- Connecting devices to PC-based scanning software
- Creating smart, connected, scanning solutions that combine your software application with Alaris hardware and software
- Centrally managing a fleet of devices

Redefining the concept and value of team work

To grow with you, we have to get to know you (and vice versa). To transform good intentions into real advantages, we go beyond typical spiff or bonus programs to learn about your specific areas of expertise and how our assets and ideas can help take your business further.

Here's a brief summary of some of the advantages, support, and incentives available.

Strong technical support

- Technical support and access to technical tool kits, including development code for integration, NFR licenses, etc.
- Extensive technical training
- Three Steps to Success Implementation process designed for the INfuse Smart Connected Scanning Solution
- Use-case development and requirements gathering for Proof of Concept creation
- Library of FAQs and documentation
- Access to pre-released devices

New connections for smarter, connected and scalable capture

The INfuse Smart Connected Scanning Solution is a standalone, network-connected, enterprise-grade scanning solution that sits at the front edge of your processes and integrates directly into line of business systems. The sooner data is captured, the sooner organizations can understand and use it. Customers become more productive and more efficient with tasks that in the past may have taken days to complete – due to a lack of information or waiting for information to arrive – now reduced to hours.

Now your customers can onboard content directly into business processes and receive real-time acknowledgement at the point of scanning. Thanks to immediate exception notifications, missing forms, signatures, and other crucial information can be caught

Extensive co-marketing support

- Joint events, press relations, custom marketing support and case study creation
- Business Development Funds (BDF)
- Evaluation and seed scanner units
- Incentives for Solution Providers and ISVs selling Alaris products via the Alaris Partner Program
- Special pricing available for bundled solutions

True collaboration

- Account management and integration team support
- Participation at the annual Alaris Partner Kick-Off Meeting
- Joint business planning
- Event/speaking opportunities, teaming with Alaris at tradeshows, conferences, industry webinars, etc.
- Access to our reseller partner base and corrected instantly, saving money and improving the customer experience.

Explore a very intelligent solution

Driverless and pc-less, the INfuse Solution is designed to efficiently onboard document content into a business process. The solution consists of Alaris hardware and software, along with your application, providing simplified setup and optimized content onboarding into business applications.

This intelligent solution is supported by a robust development program, including a bi-directional API, automated device set-up tools, workflow configurations, and technical support for your developers.

Five key challenge areas and Developer Program solutions

Here are five areas where digital transformation can create winning outcomes for you and your customers when you partner with Alaris –

- Mailroom: When a mailroom is equipped with seamlessly automated workflows to rapidly manage data, the impact on the top line can be huge. Employees have more time to focus on core job functions and time-critical documents move at the speed of business.
- Customer Onboarding: Customer onboarding powered by digitized processes and real-time notifications leads to increased customer satisfaction and even higher lifetime value per customer.
- Accounts Payable: When extra insight makes Accounts Payable more intelligent and automated, suppliers can serve customers at the right time for their needs.
- Forms Processing: Well-architected workflows for form recognition, information extraction, and quality assurance remove bottlenecks to success and accuracy and save significant amount of time.
- Records Management: Digital records management offers many advantages over paper solutions, including the ability to synchronize information, increase security, and quickly access critical documents.
