The Alaris Global Alliance Program

Create opportunities. Expand existing relationships. Build new business.

As a technology company with international presence, you prefer to work with partners who can match your scope and level of expertise. Partners who can team with you in synergistic ways to deliver truly beneficial advantages. Advantages like the ability to –

- Expand your offerings – through a portfolio of award-winning scanners, software, and services
- Connect you with more qualified leads – via demand generation and sales enablement programs
- Grow profitable revenue, customer satisfaction and repeat business for you – with lucrative channel programs and incentives

To achieve these benefits and others, we invite you and your company to become part of the Alaris Global Alliance Program.*

The Program provides a partnership structure and extensive support for global organizations with demonstrated technology expertise. When you team with Alaris, you receive –

- Business development support to increase sales and service opportunities
- Alignment and visibility to our global network of technology partners and portfolio experts
- Dedicated global sales and marketing support
- Introductions to regional and local Alaris sales teams and channels to build connections
- Comprehensive technical and sales training resources, along with access to marketing resources and assets
- Significant selling incentives including a global pricing structure, rebates, referral fees, and others
- Elite Partner status and advantages for local/regional offices of Global Partners
